CASTLEGAR'S TENTH OR MELLOWES' SEVENTH?

SENIOR HURLING FINAL SHOULD BE THRILLER

WILL it be Castlegar's tenth or Liam Mellowes seventh? That is the question to be solved at the Pearse Stadium, Salthill, on Sunday where those two West Board teams meet in the final of the Galway senior hurling championship (Co. Cup).

Although the championship started as early as 1887—Meelick won the title that year—it was not until the mid-thirties that Castlegar and Liam Mellowes began to figure prominently among the holders of the Cup.

College Road, the forerunners of the present Liam Mellowes Club, captured the title twice in 1892-'93 but forty more years elapsed before the cup came to the west again. In 1933 Maree were the winners and since then teams from the west have dominated the championship. Mellowes' victories were in 1935, '43, '45, '46, '54 and '55. They also won in 1942, but the final was later declared void at a Co. Board meeting.

Casclegar's first victory was in 1936 and they won the cup five times in succession—a record. Their other victories were in 1944, '50, '52 and '53.

In this year's championship Mellowes got off to a great start with an eight-point victory over Gort. They qualified for the semi-final when they beat Carnmore by twelve points. Turloughmore, who had been declared winners last year, met Ardrahan whom they beat by 5-12 to 2-3 and qualified for the semi-final against Mellowes. The game ended in a draw but, following a Co. Board meeting at which one of the Turloughmore players was suspended, the club refused to play Mellowes.

FIRST FINAL

In their opening game, Castlegar trounced Ballinasloe to the tune of 5-10 to 1-3 and went on to beat an up-and-coming Fohenagh side in the semi-final.

Although both sides have met in many West Galway finals and in the qualifying rounds of the Co. Cup this is the first occasion in which they have met in the championship final. In the other competitions Castlegar have had the edge.

There was an interesting sequel to the 1935 championship which was won by Mellowes. Castlegar met Gort in that championship but were suspended from the competition because of a row during the game. Mellowes went on to win the cup but when they met Castlegar three weeks later in the West Board final they were beaten by twelve points.

Much will depend on the outcome of the midfield exchanges and the ability of the Mellowes backs. In the semi-final both Jimmy Duggan and Jimmy Quigley struck top form and almost completely blotted out Micky Cullinane and Bobbie Gardiner of Turloughmore. If their form holds they could be more than a match for Kevin and Pat Shaughnessy.

It is doubtful, however, if the Mellowes defence will be able to deal completely with the wiles of Eddie Abberton, Mickey Burke, Padraic Nolan and company. True, Bernie Power, Mickey Hughes and Paddy Kerins have been very impressive in recent games, but will they be able to effectively curb the non-stop play of the Castlegar men?

There should be some highly entertaining duels between the Mellowes forwards and the Castlegar backs. The city side have fast, intelligent attackers but they will have to be on their toes to evade the attentions of Johnny Molloy, Seamus Cullinane, Michael Connell and Tommie Broderick. They made many mistakes and lost numerous scoring opportunities against Turloughmore. Faulty shooting, on Sunday, could cost them the match.

The inclusion of Paddy "Mogan" Duggan should strengthen the attack. He should get great support from brother Sean, Billy Derivan, Micky Elwood and Jimmy Collins.

Both sides are evenly matched but Castlegar's drive and energy could see them through. Whatever the outcome, it should be a ding-dong struggle with plenty of fast, open hurling.

At the time of going to press it had not been decided whether Mr. Mick Quaine or Mr. M. J. "Inky" Flaherty would referee the game.

The final will be preceded by the minor hurling final between Gort and Fohenagh at 3 p.m. The West Galway junior hurling (B) semi-final between Rahoon and Claregalway is timed for 5.15 and will be refereed by Mr. P. Glynn.

Double For Lucky Fohenagh

Fohenagh	3-5
Loughrea	3-3
Killimor	5-6
Mullagh	1-4

FOHENAGH were lucky to win the East Galway divisional hurling final from Loughrea at Duggan Park on Sunday in a game in which the winners only just got on top with a last-minute goal to win by two points, 3-5 to 3-3.

Less than ten minutes from the start Loughrea put through two fast goals from Murphy and Tierney. It looked as if Fohenagh would not be able to hold the fast-moving Loughrea forwards, but in new spirited rallies in the second half they soon had Loughrea's big lead reduced to a point, and towards the end Killilea's goal gave them a two points win.

The game opened with both teams playing fast hurling but in less than ten minutes Tierney, for Loughrea, had a goal which was followed by a second goal by Frank Murphy, and a point which followed left Loughrea in the lead by seven points.

Then followed a spirited rally by Fohenagh, which reduced this lead by a couple of points, but it cost the team the loss of one of their most prominent forwards, P. J. Lally, who was sent to the side-line by the referee, M. J. ("Inky") Flaherty, for the rest of the game. Dunne, a Loughrea player, was also sent to the line.

Loughrea again increased their lead to leave the half-time scores: Loughrea, 2-3; Fohenagh 1-2.

John Glynn had Fohenagh's goal in the first half.

On resuming Loughrea put through their third goal. Fohenagh had also a goal and were gradually reducing the lead until near the end there was only a point between the teams. A few minutes from the final whistle Killilea shot through a goal to leave Fohenagh winners.

Throughout, Loughrea were the better team, but Fohenagh kept up a dogged defence which in the end paid dividends.

After the match several scores of fans, who travelled to Ballinasloe to see Fohenagh win, carried the team's captain, T. Killilea, shoulder high through the park with the cup.

FOOTBALL

In their match with Ballinasloe in the junior football final Fohenagh were again lucky to win by a point from the home team who all through looked the winning side until a late score, a goal, almost on full time, gave Fohenagh the honours by a point.

Ballinasloe were without some of their regular players.

In the junior hurling (Grade A) final between Killimor and Mullagh, fans were treated to as fine an exhibition of hurling as was seen in Duggan Park for some time.

Both teams from the traditional hurling centres of East Galway gave a clean, crisp and fast display with Killimor having a slight edge on the course of play all through.

Mullagh's defence never slacked all through the game but their stiff resistance could not stop the winners from piling on the scores, and towards the end Killimor had a comfortable winning margin, 5-6 to 1-4.

DUNMORE V. BALLYGAR

THEY MEET FOR THIRD TIME

BALLYGAR and Dunmore will meet for the third time, at Ballygar, on Sunday (3 p.m.) to decide the winners of the Group in the Galway Senior Football League.

A number of inter-county players including Jack Mahon, Mattie McDonough, Jackie Coyle and Mi Greally will be in action. There is keen rivalry between the sides and given fine weather, they should produce some excellent football.

The winners of this group meet Clonbur in the semi-final. Tuam have already qualified for the final.

TWO SUSPENDED AT G.A.A. MEETING

ONE of the best known officials of the G.A.A. in Co. Roscommon, Mr. P. J. Mulvey, was suspended for one month at a special meeting of the Roscommon Co. Board, held at Elphin on Thursday night, Dr. D. Keenan, Chairman, presiding.

The suspension was a sequel to a junior championship football match played at Elphin between teams from Strokestown and Boheroe.

At a meeting of the North Roscommon Divisional Board of the G.A.A., held at Croghan on September 2nd, the Northern Board ordered the match to be replayed following a statement by a delegate that he had, "for the good of the Association," asked the referee to omit mention in his report of certain incidents that occurred during the match. Strokestown appealed to the Co. Board against the order to replay the match, but when the matter came up at Roscommon, on Tuesday night, the Board decided to hold a meeting at Elphin so that the referee could be present and explain certain things.

The referee, Mr. P. J. Duffy, one of the best players of club football in the county, submitted a second report on Thursday night but the Co. Board rejected it. Mr. Duffy then stated that after that night he was "going to wash his hands of the whole thing," and left the meeting.

Another sequel to the match was that a second Boheroe player, Ciaran Cannon, was suspended for two months. Mr. Mulvey's suspension was due to his questioning a decision of the referee.

NORTH GALWAY G.A.A. FIXTURES

The North Galway G.A.A. has made the following fixtures for Sunday next:

BALLINDEREEN AND GORT IN HURLING FINALS

M.H.—GORT	5-6
CASTLEGAR	4-4
J.H. (A)—BALLINDERREEN	3-5
FR. TOM BURKES	2-1

HURLING fans who visited Clarenbridge on Sunday to see the county minor and Grade A hurling semi-finals certainly had something to talk about when leaving the field and both matches will certainly be the subject of much disagreement.

The Gort-Castlegar game, played for the first forty minutes in a steady downpour, took a surprising turn after ten minutes of the second half when Gort, trailing badly, took hold of the game and, mainly through Devlin's marksmanship, went on to win handsomely.

Similarly Ballinderreen, playing listlessly through the first half and looking likely losers, had a man sent to the sideline. With the odds all against them they took the bit in their teeth and romped home to a decisive victory.

GORT V. CASTLEGAR

It was "Devlin's Day" and no mistake about it in this very entertaining minor semi-final. Playing confidently Castlegar looked all-over winners and after twenty minutes play, on sheer merit, led by fifteen points to one.

Admittedly goalie Loughnane seemed to have let in two "soft" goals but those who saw the muddy patch in which he stood knew differently. Still there was no doubt about Castlegar's superiority until Devlin took hold. In the last five minutes of the half his sure and accurate hurley had gained a point from play, a point from a free, and a goal from a "21."

Despite these gains the Gort supporters had but little hope on resuming, and repeated Castlegar attacks for eight minutes sank their hopes to zero. Meanwhile Billy O'Neill had moved back to help master the hitherto rampant O'Shaughnessy while Devlin, who had up to now shone mostly in defence, mounted a permanent offensive which never slackened to the end. He was constantly on the move and his unerring accuracy with frees brought his tally to 2-6 while he laid another and decisive goal on for Billy O'Neill. Canning's two goals, which rounded off the day for Gort, were gained when the Castlegar lads had lost the fine edge of optimism and aided the Gort effort to a final triumphal burst.

Praise to both sets of youngsters They were dashing, skilful, well-trained, and sporting and either side could have lost with honour. Praise to Castlegar for battling out to the bitter end and to Gort for that wonderful effort which brought them from far behind to victory.

Both sides had many fine players on view and Loughnane, in goal for Gort, redeemed his early lapses by a magnificent display for the remainder of the match. Cooke and McGrath played rousing hurling in the rere where Hayes, lethargic at times, was also capable of good bursts. Stankard and the stalwart Gillespie were always prominent in breaking up the Castlegar attacks while Devlin has been treated of already.

His partner at centrefield, Burke, made good use of his strength while Courtney and McNeill worked unstintedly on the half-forward line and did much to win the game. Canning and Mullins were hard triers in the first line.

Folan kept a good goal for Castlegar while Wall and Francis shone in the back line. Corcoran and Lynch were outstanding on the half-back line while Heneghan and Conneely held sway at centre field in the first half but lost control in the second.

Similarly Shaughnessy and Egan, after a most spectacular first half, found themselves too well policed in the second moiety to get any more scores. Molloy and O'Loghlin were a dangerous pair on the full-forward line.

The referee was Mr. Aubrey Higgins.

THE PLAY

Castlegar went into action at once and O'Loghlin shot a goal in the third minute. A point by Devlin gave Gort hope but fierce blitzes by Castlegar gained a point by Shaughnessy, a goal by Molloy, two points by Egan—one from a free—and a dashing goal by the same player. A rare Gort break-out saw Devlin shoot Gort's second point. He shot a fifty-yard point from a free a few minutes later but Castlegar returned to the attack and, after being foiled several times by the resolute defence, had a fine point by Shaughnessy. Gort surged to the attack again and were awarded a "21" which Devlin drove like a bullet to the net to make half-time scores: Castlegar 3-4; Gort 1-3.

With Gort gaining an even break around the centre play became more even and, when Devlin sent a high ball which hopped off Folan's stick to the net, the Gort boys were rampant and attacked in most determined fashion. Devlin sent a 30-yard free over the bar and a few minutes later lobbed the ball in the goal area where McNeill's stick connected with it in mid-air and sent it to the net for the equaliser.

Castlegar fought back and lost a great chance when Shaughnessy muffed a free from an easy position. Gort pressed again and Devlin, foiled by the upright, atoned with a point from 70 yards out. Two minutes later he pointed a fifty yards free but Castlegar pressed again and were beaten several times by Loughnane's fine anticipation. Another free offered in an easy position but again Shaughnessy was wide and the puck-out, helped upfield, was swept to the net by Canning. A minute later he repeated the feat with a 30-yard sizzler which gave no chance to the goalie. A goal by Molloy in the last minute was Castlegar's sole score of this moiety.

Gort—G. Loughnane, P. Cooke, J. Hayes, M. McGrath, J. Stankford, P. Gillespie, M. Quinn, S. Devlin, G. Burke, H. Courtenay, W. McNeill, P. Neill, P. Quinn, R. Canning, N. Mullins, P. Connolly.

Castlegar—T. Folan, M. Wall, S. Francis, P. Kelly, S. Lynch, J. Corcoran, P. King, M. Heneghan, M. Conneely, G. Egan, B. Shaughnessy, J. Daly, T. O'Loughlin, M. Corcoran, E. Molloy.

BALLINDERREEN V. FR. TOM BURKES

In a scrappy match, enlivened by wild bursts of excitement and two incidents, victory seemed certain for Fr. Tom's when, after ten minutes had elapsed in the second half, a Ballinderreen player was sent to the sideline.

Had Fr. Tom's lost that player they could not have been worse off for a lethargic Ballinderreen team had up to now been a sore disappointment to its supporters, looking likely losers even though leading by a point. Stung by misfortune, however, they plunged into their work with a rare abandon and, having thrown the smooth-running machine that was their opponents into extreme confusion, went on to win in a hell-for-leather, hard-pulling, thrilling last twenty minutes.

The game was not a great one. Stoppages were frequent and temper too often in evidence but that last twenty hectic minutes was packed with excitement as the fourteen fit Ballinderreen lads outhurled opponents who had previously run them ragged. It reached a crescendo as Kelly and Hallinan gained the vital goal which gave them a strong lead and from that to the end the exchanges, if not so exciting, were keen and tough. One must say that Ballinderreen might not have won had Fr. Tom's scored one quarter of its frees.

Georgie McDonagh shone between the Ballinderreen sticks and made many brilliant saves. Frank Moran, after a slow start, played his usual sound game and his mighty puck-outs and clearances were of prime advantage to his side. He had sound partners in Kiely and John O'Connor with Paddy O'Loghlin shining on the half-back line where Furdom and Joe O'Connor were also prominent.

Costello at centrefield was excellent throughout as was his partner Helebert who improved as the game went on.

Kelly, M. Donoghue, and M. Hallinan also began shakily but showed their true form in the second half. P. Donoghue was dangerous from start to finish while Lane as an opportunist and Linnane for his forceful qualities were prominent in a good line.

Fr. Tom's soundest line was the last one where Flaherty, Chapman and Lohan used their fine physique to advantage and for a long time held the Ballinderreen attack in a vice-like grip. M. Duggan and Cox played well on the half-back line while E. Duggan was dashing in centrefield.

Bartley Finnerty was the outstanding player of the field in the first half and looked like winning the match for his team but a closer policing in the second moiety reduced his effectiveness considerably.

Reilly was always effective beside him with Elwood and Lenihan forceful and shrewd on the full-forward line.

Mr. J. McDonagh was the referee.

THE PLAY

Play opened brightly and McDonagh saved brilliantly before Ballinderreen opened the scoring with a point by P. Donoghue. Ballinderreen was in hard luck when Kelly was narrowly wide with a free but the weak puck-out was caught by P. Donoghue and sent back over the bar. Joy was short-lived, however, for Lenihan first-timed a nice centre to the net. Burkes attacks were beaten off and Donoghue was again prominent in a long solo run but his drive was deflected wide by a defender. The ensuing "70" dropped to Helebert who first-timed it over the bar for the equaliser.

Bartley Finnerty now came forty yards, dribbling the ball along the ground, and sent a thirty-yarder over the bar. Kelly, having mulled a free, was ordered to take it again and equalised with a nice point to make half-time scores: Ballinderreen 0-4; Fr. Tom Burkes 1-1.

Both teams played lively hurling on the resumption though Fr. Tom's looked more dangerous. However, it was Ballinderreen which went ahead when Hallinan, lolled in possession, took the free and notched a point. Following a flare-up between two players a Ballinderreen man was sent to the sideline. From now on Ballinderreen had the edge but had Fr. Tom's not persisted in giving its many "frees" to Finnerty a different tale might have been told. At least six close-in frees were missed and several more difficult ones met the same fate.

Donoghue, with only the goalie to beat, mulled his shot but Kiely goaled in the great melee which ensued. Cox shot a point from 60 yards but this Fr. Tom's score was disallowed. The game hung in the balance until a sideline puck by Kelly dropped at the goalie's feet and was lashed to the net by Hallinan. Duggan's centre to Reilly was let slip by the latter and a grand chance had passed. Kelly made no mistake with a free a few minutes later and the Ballinderreen assaults continued but gained only one score—a goal by O'Loglin. Just before the end a Fr. Tom's player was sent to the sideline.

Ballinderreen—G. McDonagh, F. Moran, John O'Connor, M. J. Kiely, J. Furdom, Joe O'Connor, P. O'Loglin, B. Helebert, P. Costello, M. Hallinan, P. Kelly, M. Donoghue, M. J. Linnane, J. Lane, P. Donoghue.

Fr. Tom Burkes—T. Small, J. Flaherty, J. Lohan, M. Chapman, M. Duggan, S. Cox, D. Warde, E. Duggan, W. Noone, M. Reilly, M. Finnerty, B. Finnerty, M. Elwood, D. Lenihan, C. Moynihan.

JUVENILE MATCHES

Two West Galway Board juvenile hurling matches have been fixed for Newcastle on Sunday: St. Michaels v. Fr. Tom Burkes at 11.30 and St. Patricks v. Rahoon at 12.45. Mr. Michael Finnerty will referee both matches.

ROSCOMMON G.A.A. FINALS

Roscommon Co. Board G.A.A., at Roscommon, fixed St. Coman's Park, Roscommon, as to the venue for the junior and juvenile fooball championship final on September 29th. Either Moore or St. Aiden's (Ballyforan) will meet Rahara and the referee will be J. P. Callaghan, Castlerea, if St. Aiden's, Mr. B. Molloy of Moore.

The juvenile finalists are not yet known, but the referee will be Dr. D. Keenan. The juvenile match will be played at 2.15 p.m. and the junior at 3.30 p.m.
